	PIMPRI-CHINCHWADE EDUCATION TRUST'S Pimpri Chinchwad College of Arts, Commerce and Science Sr. No. 110, Gate No.01, Ravet, Pimpri-Chinchwad, Pune – 412101
---	---	---

Report on the Pune Book Festival at PCACS Library

The Pune Book Festival, held at the PCACS (Pimpri Chinchwad College of Arts, Commerce & Science) Library, took place on 11th December 2024 and was a vibrant and enriching celebration of literature. Authors, publishers, and readers gathered to celebrate the power of books and reading.

A remarkable aspect of the Pune Book Festival at PCACS Library was the active participation of both students and teachers, including students of B.Com (S.Y. and F.Y.) and B.A. (F.Y.), who were seen reading books in the library throughout the event. The library's serene environment became a haven for both students and faculty to immerse themselves in literature, with many engaged in reading a diverse selection of books. From fiction and poetry to academic texts, the attendees explored various genres, reflecting the festival's goal to foster a love for reading. The presence of students and teachers in the library reinforced the idea of creating a reading culture within the academic setting and showcased the library's pivotal role in promoting lifelong learning.

This involvement helped create a collaborative environment where both students and faculty were able to share their insights and reflections on the books they were reading, enriching the overall experience of the festival.

It was a resounding success for book lovers as it not only promoted reading and creativity but also provided a platform for dialogue and exchange of ideas. The event's rich variety of books and discussions helped attendees immerse themselves in literature, learn new skills, and celebrate the joy of reading. The diverse selection of genres catered to the interests of readers, allowing them to explore fiction, poetry, academic texts, and more. The festival created an environment where attendees, from students to teachers, could connect with the books that sparked their curiosity and passion, further enhancing their appreciation for literature.

The presence of students reading books in the library during the festival further exemplified the festival's success in fostering a reading culture. This festival served as an excellent initiative to foster a literary culture in Pune and highlighted the importance of libraries in community engagement and education.

Pune book festival at PCACS

Books: The Best Companion for Every Student."

Reading: The Pathway to Endless Possibilities."

Dive Into Books, Dive Into Knowledge."